IS IT TO BE A Dinner Set This Winter?

If that has been decided upon we want to sell it to you. Surely our variety of patterns includes some one that will please your fancy—and our prices will guarantee.

We carry the best patterns of the best foreign and domestic makers, and carry them in open stock, thereby enabling you to match broken pieces at any time or enlarge the set at your convenience.

Through the month of January we will give a special 10 per cent discount on all Commode Sets and stock patterns in Dinnerware, except our Nonpareil. Don't let this chance pass you by.

This year we shall make a strong feature of our Crockery Department. We have several new stock patterns ordered to arrive in early Spring. These, with the large number of patterns we already have, we feel sure will be the best assortment carried outside the large cities.

By all means give us a chance to show you—if we don't satisfy you most perfectly both in Patterns and Price we will take a back seat.

Patrick Griffin of Winnipeg, Manitoba and T. A. Griffin of Sand point, Ont., are visiting their brother, John Griffin, the North Barre grocer. They are accompanied by their brother-in-law, William Clemens of Almonte, Ont. Patrick Griffin has not been seen for 35 years, he having gone to Manitoba as a very young man.

Lorne Elwyn's big stock company is to open a week's engagement at the Barre opera house commencing January 15. Last week this company played at the Strong theatre in Burlington and broke all records of the house for big business. Mr. Elwyn carries twenty-two people and a car load of special scenery. This engagement promises to be of interest to the theatre-going public of Barre. Monday night will be ladies' night. This company also carries nine big specialties. Tickets will go on sale Friday. George A. Hickey, business manager of the company, was in town today.

C. J. Day, a granite and marble dealer at Brookings, S. D., was in town recently investigating the granite business here. Mr. Day says there are millions of dollars worth of granite in the West and as soon as the people realize its value, many will become wealthy. This study of granite and marble workings, Mr. Day says, is in its infancy and some wonderful things will result from these quarries in a few years. Mr. Day has devoted the greater part of his work to preparing granite and marble for monumental work. In past years he has received the goods from the Vermont quarries, but in a short time he believes there will be enough granite and marble discovered in the western states so that no more will be needed from this state.

An Old One Brought to Light.

This is the way books appealed to the father of Abington Fair, a once well known supporter of the institution known as "the turf." "I must have some books," he said, when he found an empty library in the house which he had purchased in Roxburyshire. His only condition was that the volumes should be handsome and should cover in bulk so many feet of space. The bookseller suggested that half should be bound in Russia and half in Morocco. "What on earth's to hinder you from having the lot bound in Glasgow?" was Baird's response.—Kansas City Independent.

His Mother.

"So his mother called on you after you became engaged? What did she say?"

"Oh, she told me I wasn't half good enough for him, but she would give him a place in the bank where he could draw a big salary and not have anything to do."—Chicago Record-Herald.
